JAPAN WARNED THAT BRITAIN TO COME TO U.S. AID WHEN PACIFIC WAR STARTS

CHURCHILL DECLARES U. S. WAR WITH JAPAN TO INVOLVE BRITAIN

BRITAIN'S PRIME MINISTER WARNS WAR MAY SPREAD TO REMAINDER OF WORLD

LONDON, Nov. 10.—(AP)—Declaring bluntly that "we do not know whether the efforts of the United States to preserve peace in the Pacific will be successful," Prime Minister Churchill declared today that "if the United States should become involved in war with Japan, the British declaration would follow within the hour."

The war, Churchill warned, "may soon spread to the remaining fourth of the globe."

The Prime Minister stated that the British air force now "is at least equal in size and number, not to speak of quality, to German air power."

He pointed this out in citing the improvement in Britain's postion in the war in the last year.

"Now," he said, "a large part of the United States navy, as Col Knox, has told us, is constantly in action against the common foe," and Russia is aiding in the fight against Germany.

Issues Warning.

Churchill issued the warning in an address at the Lord Mayor's Luncheon in an annual ceremony marking the induction of a new lord mayor of the city of London.

Loudly cheered when he arose to speak, Churchill declared that London was carrying on the traditional festivals even though "this year our ancient guildhall lies in ruins."

Churchill asserted that "it would be rather dangerous" for Japan "to provoke gratuitously a struggle with the United States" in view, among other things of the importance of steel in modern war and the difference in the two nations' steel production.

Turning to the war in Europe, Churchill declared that "all the usual signs and symptoms already are manifest" that a "peace offensive" may come from Berlin but he asserted that "however long and hard the toil may be," Britain "will never enter into any negotiations with Hitler or any party in German which represents the Nazi regime."

War Declaration Would Follow.

Churchill said he was taking the luncheon as "the occasion to say—as it is my duty to say—that should the United States become involved in war with Japan, the British declaration would follow within the hour."

The prime minister said that

METHODIST PASTORS ARE REASSIGNED TO CORSICANA CHURCHES

SEVEN CHANGES MADE IN DISTRICT IN LIST APPOINTMENTS SUNDAY

Seven changes were made in district assignments but none in Corsicana or immediate vicinity when the appointments were read by Bishop Ivan Lee Holt at the concluding sessions of the seventy-fifth annual meeting of the Central Texas Methodist conference at the First Methodist church in Fort Worth Sunday afternoon. The 1942 meeting of the conference will be held in Waco.

The Rev. T. Edgar Neal, former pastor of the First Methodist church of Corsicana and more recently at Arlington Heights in Fort Worth, was transferred to the Northwest Texas Conference and asisgned to Vernon. The Rev. M. Dick Lowry, once stationed at Chatfield, was transferred to the Southwest Texas conference.

The list of appointments follows, with figures in parentheses indicating number of years the district superintendents and pastors have served their particular charges:

Corsicana District.

District Superintendent, R. Otis Sory (4). Barry Circuit, James B. Ansley, student at SMU., transferred from East Kansas conference; Bazette circuit, Peyton Goodman from Nolanville; Black Hills circuit, to be supplied; Blooming Grove, M. B. Madge Youngblood Died Monday From Injuries in Crash

Madge Youngblood, aged 16 years, Hillsboro, died in a Tyler hospital early Monday morning from injuries sustained at an early hour Friday morning at Tyler in a bus-cattle truck accident. Dorothy Ruth Farrar, 18, of Corsicana, died shortly after the crash involving a bus conveying a number of Hillsboro Junior College students from Kilgore after a football game. Miss Youngblood's death is the second victim of the accident. She was a student in Hillsboro Junior College. Six others received injuries.

Funeral services will be held from the First Baptist Church at Hillsboro Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Burial will be in Hillsboro.

Surviving are her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Youngblood; two brothers, Lamar and C. J. Youngblood, and a sister, Ruth Youngblood, all of Hillsboro, and a grandmother, Mrs. Board, Grand Saline.

McCormick Funeral Service of Frost and Blooming Grove is directing arrangements.

TWELVE KILLED AND FIFTY INJURED IN PASSENGER WRECK

CYLINDER HEAD IS BLOWN FROM FREIGHT TO ADJOINING TRACK CAUSES WRECK

KENTON, O., Nov. 10.—(AP)—A passenger train, thundered through the night at between 60-70 miles an hour, was derailed by a cylinder head blown off a freight train and piled up into a mass of twisted steel near Dunkirk. Twelve were listed today as dead. About 50 were injured.

Engineer R. S. Schuler of Fort Wayne, one of 48 persons to survive the wreck of the Pennsylvania Railroad's "Pennsylvanian," said "something went wrong" just after he passed the freight train on his Chicago-New York run. He recalled faintly seeing a man with a flashlight.

In Chicago, H. E. Newcomet, vice president of the railroad, said the cylinder from the freight train blew out and onto the adjoining track "and before there was time to flag it, the Pennsylvanian, moving at high speed on the east bound track, struck the damaged cylinder head, derailing and turning over."

Passengers were tossed helter-skelter out of seats and berths and into near-freezing temperatures. Wreckage was strewn along the railroad in the little community 10 miles north of here.

Control Tower Wrecked

A control tower at the intersection of the Pennsylvania and New York Central Lines was wrecked by the train, but two occupants leaped to safety. Tangled pullmans and coaches blocked both lines.

Speeding along at better than 60 miles an hour, the train's locomotive suddenly began "swaying back and forth" as it approached the crossing, said Roy Schwartzkopf, tower operator. Five of the

TEXAS COTTON CROP FORECAST ONLY FEW THOUSAND SHORTER

NOVEMBER 1ST CONDITIONS INDICATED YIELD OF 2,771,000 BALES FOR THE STATE

AUSTIN, Nov. 10.—(AP)—The U. S. Agricultural Marketing Service today forecast a cotton crop of 2,771,000 bales for Texas as based on Nov. 1 conditions.

This forecast is only 29,000 bales below the forecast of October, and compares with 3,234,000 bales produced last year, and 3,766,000 bales the average production in Texas during the ten-year period (1930-39).

The estimated lint yield per acre at 168 pounds compares with 184 pounds in 1940, and a ten-year (1930-1939) acerage yield of 154 pounds.

While the acreage of cotton remaining for harvest in 1941 at 7,922,000 acres is the smallest during any of the past thirty-five years, and is only 45 per cent of the peak acreage of 17,149,000 acres harvested in 1926, the prospective yield at 168 pounds is well above the 154 pound average recorded during the ten-year period (1930-39) and 150 pound average recorded for the thirty-five year period (1906-1940).

DETAILS COMPLETED BIG LEGION PARADE TUESDAY MORNING

STORES IN CORSICANA TO CLOSE BETWEEN HOURS 9:30 AND 11 A. M.

Plans have been completed for one of the largest Armistice Day parades ever held in Corsicana by members of the Johnson-Wiggins Post No. 22, American Legion, it was announced today by officials.

Beginning promptly at 10 o'clock the parade will follow the same route as on previous occasions, starting at the intersection of West Third Avenue and North Main, proceeding down Main to Seventh Avenue, up Beaton to Third and down Commerce to the armory.

Members of the Retail Merhants Association will close from 9:30 to 11 o'clock in observance of the national holiday.

Only one change was made in previously announced plans. Instead of conducting the annual memorial services at the monument in the City Park, the services will be held at the Legion Hall immediately following the parade. The citizenship is invited to attend.

Mays Is Speaker.

Opening the allday celebration, A. P. Mays, president of the Navarro County Bar Association, will address a breakfast meeting of Legionnaires and Auxiliary members at the Hall Tuesday morning. beginning at 8 o'clock.

Landing Wheel Is Lost in Take-Off; Cadet Down Safely

Aviation Cadet R. P. Kirschke, member of the advanced class at Air Activities of Texas, successfully landed his training plane which had lost a wheel on a take-off without injury to himself shortly before 1 o'clock Monday afternoon.

Cadet Kirschke, a native of Joliet, Ill., and a former student of the University of Alabama, took off on a solo flight about 11:10 Monday morning for a scheduled hour of practice and shortly afterward was notified by his instructor on the ground that he had lost one of his landing wheels.

The cadet continued to circle the field in an effort to reduce his supply of gasoline and received encouragement and landing instructions from Captain O. E. Ford, commander of the Air Corps Training Detachment, who went aloft in another trainer piloted by Lieut. Henry C. Moore.

The propeller was broken and a wing damaged when the wheel strut was driven into it on landing.

The cadet had twenty hours flying time to his credit when the incident occurred.

No So Easy..

McKINNEY, Nov. 10.—(AP)—Evidence that the state drivers' license test can't be passed with the greatest of ease came when 28 of 37 McKinney applicants failed in one day.

They first were questioned on state traffic laws and then given road trials.

The two examining patrolmen of the Department of Safety instructed the group to study the traffic laws and come back for another examination.

Seven Texans Die Violent Deaths In Weekend Accidents

By The Associated Press

Seven persons died of accidents in Texas over the week-end; three as the result of escaping gas, one by drowning and three in traffic accidents.

Mrs. Hobart Brace, wife of the foreman of the Hedgecoke Ranch (near Amarillo) and her two children, Dorothy, 5, and Buddie 2, died of gas fumes from a heater left burning during a cold wave.

Mrs. Charles Marsalisi, 43, of Houston was killed and six persons were injured, five seriously, in a head-on collision between Houston and Beaumont.

Ernest L. Jacobs, 40, grocer of Highlands, was drowned in Oyster Bayou after he fell from a boat.

Mrs. Corinne Boss, 43, of Dallas, died of injuries she suffered in falling from a fast-moving automobile.

STRIKE ON NAVAL PROJECT DECLARED REVOLT AGAINST U. S.

ADMIRAL BLAKELY DISTRICT COMMANDANT, SAYS STEPS BE TAKEN SUPPRESS REVOLT

By The Associated Press

An AFL strike was called on $35,000,000 of naval construction in the San Diego, Calif., area and the Navy promptly directed Rear Admiral Charles A. Blakely to "take necessary steps" to carry the work forward.

Blakely, commander of the 11th Naval District, had characterized the walkout as an "open revolt against the United States government" and declared that the Navy would "take full constituted authority to suppress the revolt."

He was instructed from Washington to take title to all materials at point or origin under all contracts and to vehicles belonging to the contractors and to use "such labor as can be obtained" to keep the work going.

The dispute involves 3,500 building workers and 11 construction prorjects.

"The constitution of the United States," said Blakely, "grants to its citizens the right of free assemblage but that sacred documentment does not permit individuals to bludgeon the United States government. And, I fully intend to see that certain San Diego labor leaders do not bludgeon the United States navy!"

Before the strike started, the admiral declared that the Navy would import labor, if necessary, to take the place of striking workers.

Started by Wage Demands

The dispute started as a strike in support of wage increase demands by workers employed at a federal works agency demountable housing project, the naval training station, the marine corps rifle range and Camp Elliott, auxiliary marine base.

The navy proposed to let the contractors import labor to complete the jobs and the general strike call followed.

This involves construction of barracks, hangars and other facilities at the naval station, main marine corps base, the navy's ream

Calls For 7,735 New Trainees By Texas Headquarters

AUSTIN, Uov. 10.—(AP)—Calls AUSTIN, Nov. 10.—(AP)—Calls for 7,735 new trainees were issued by state selective headquarters today.

It was the largest requisition on local boards since selective service became operative last fall.

Selective Service Director J. Watt Page said 5,915 white men would be sent to army examining stationes during the period Nov. 24 through Dec. 19.

Under a new plan, they will be returned to their homes immediately after the army examination, and those accepted will probably be inducted about Jan. 1.

From Dec. 18 through Dec. 22, 1,820 negroes will be sent to army stationsn and those accepted will be inducted early in January.

General Page announced the war departmet had credited Texas with 120,100 men serving in the nation's armed forces, the figure including 36,205 furnished by local boaards.

HITLER'S CHALLENGE TO BRITAIN TO TRY LAND INVASION OF WEST EUROPE IS SAFE FROM DEFIANCE

By DeWITT MACKENZIE

Herr Hitler's challenge to Britain to go ahead and try a land invasion of western Europe is a safe form of defiance.

He knows perfectly well that an English attempt at this juncture, while he is still strong and fully prepared along the coast, would be courting terrible disaster. At best, an attack in either direction—by the British against the continent or by the Nazis against England—would represent one of the most difficult military-naval operations of all time.

There's small likelihood that Britain will be able to stage a successful land invasion of western Europe unless and until the Nazi chief is bordering on collapse—or so it seems to me.

If Hitler with all his power hasn't been able to achieve invasion in England's weakness, what chance has Britain to do it while the fuehrer still has superior strength?

Is there a friendly breeze that will waft a British armada of transports lightly over the treacherous cross-currents of the channel, and yet keep the Germans from sailing to England? Or can John Bull pull out of his hat some magic invasion formula which is equal to the most powerful fighting machine of history?

The British will try invasion in due course, and so will Hitler, if there is any sort of fighting chance for success. However, you're safe in betting that if and when John Bull gets an army ashore, it will be after Hitler's forces have been weakened to the point of dissolution.

Napoleon was too smart to try it. Hitler has been too smart to try it thus far.

Where then are the British to strike? Does this mean that no land offensive can be undertaken—that they can't respond to Stalin's invitation to help Russia by opening up a new front?

Not at all. There is at least one exceedingly useful spot, and that's northern Africa. The allies would have done a great stroke of business if they cleaned up Libya again.

British naval domination of the Mediterranean would seem to be

THOUSANDS FRESH GERMAN TROOPS IN LENINGRAD ATTACK

FIERCE CRIMEAN FIGHTING REPORTED AND NEW MOSCOW ASSAULT EXPECTED

LONDON, Nov. 10.—(AP)—Thousands of fresh German troops were reported today to be striking from Finnish-held territory against Leningrad's defenses while Soviet Russia acknowledged fierce Crimean fighting and girded for a revival of the battle for Moscow.

The Leningrad drive was interpreted by Russian quarters here as a German effort to seal gaps in the siege lines—cutting Soviet rail outlets and seizing all of Lake Ladoga's shoreline—before Finland replies to a suggestion by the United States that she make peace with the Soviet Union.

The Moscow radio said the Germans had been repulsed at the village of Kestenga, leaving behind 2,500 dead.

The Soviet information bureau's early-morning communique said simply: "On Nov. 9, our troops fought the enemy on all fronts. Fighting was partiiularly fierce on the Crimean sertor."

The regular mid-day communique repeated the assertion that fighting was continuing along the entire front, but made no specific mention of the Crimea.

Reports relayed from Helsinki by way of Stockholm said Finnish forces in the far north were advancing steadily toward the Arctic port of Muhmansk and were menacing Soviet armies in the Kola Peninsula to the east.

Some 300 miles south of Murmansk, these dispatches said, a Finnish column was nearing the railway town of Soroka.

The German air force was reported repeatedly attacking both Moscow and Leningrad. The Moscow radio said that nine German planes had attacked the city yesterday but that only a few succeeded in penetrating its defenses and dropping bombs. Some casualties were acknowledged.

Fighting Along Lone Line.

Behind this were reports of destructive combat from the White to the Black Sea.

Big fires were said by German airmen to have been started in Leningrad yesterday by aerial attacks, and they claimed also that 53 Russian planes were shot down. Russians said the German

LONDON, Nov. 10.—(AP)—Britain's great air offensive against Germany and German-occupied territories, begun Friday night with the mightiest attack of the war, continued virtually without let-up over the week end and was concentrated last night on the big northwestern industrial city and port of Hamburg.

The city was plastered with high explosive and fire bombs by big RAF bombers, the air ministry said.

The raid was the 84th that British planes have made on the important port and second-largest city of Germany since the war began and informed sources called it "successful."

Hamburg was attacked for two hours, the air ministry said, and "everything went according to plan." Rivers and waterways marked the route, and docks and the industrial quarter of the city could be clearly seen, a bulletin said.

"The crews were able to observe bursts of high explosive bombs and watched large fires take a good hold among the docks and in the town," said the announcement. "Clouds of smoke were seen above

HOUSE COMMITTEE CLEARS WAY QUICK NEUTRALITY ACTION

AGREEMENT REACHED TO LIMIT DEBATE ON MEASURE THAT PASSED HOUSE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—(AP)—The house rules committee cleared the way today for final house action Thursday on sweeping revision of the neutrality act to permit the government to arm merchant ships and send them into combat zones and belligerent ports with one Democratic committeeman declaring that the nation was "being led to the slaughter house."

The committee agreed unanimously, members said, to limit debate to eight hours.

Rep. Cox D-Ga) of the committee asserted that while he believed the United States was already in the war, "the country is in no mental attitude to go to war and we are being led to the slaughter house." He demanded that the administration act to prevent defense strikes and said "congress should put its foot down" on measures like the neutrality amendments "until the president does something about labor."

"We have an opportunity to test out the administration as to whether it is ever going to do anything about the gangsters who are sabotaging defense," Cox continued.

He added that the people were not being "told the truth" about this country's position toward the war and that he had "had the feeling all the while that we are in the war."

Speaker Rayburn said administration forces believed they had the strength to force house acceptance of senate amendments to the original house ship arming bill which broadened the legislabat zones and belligerent ports.

Neither he nor Democratic Leadtion to permit vessels to enter comer McCormack of Massachusetts, however, would predict the majority they expected. They said, however, that there was little chance that the vote would be as great as the 259 to 138 tally on the single issue of repealing provisions of the act prohibiting the placing of guns on cargo vessels (The house membership is 435.)

BELIEVED AGREEMENT BETWEEN U. S.-JAPAN ENTIRELY POSSIBLE

TWO MEMBERS SENATE FOREIGN RELATIONS COMMITEE SEE ADJUSTMENT CHANCE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—(AP)—Two members of the senate foreign relations committee—Thomas (D-Utah) and Capper (R-Kan.)—voiced the opinion today that differences between this country and Japan could be adjusted in the forthcoming conversations between state department officials and Saburo Kurusu, the special Japanese envoy.

The talks are scheduled to begin next week and Kurusu already has been reported pessimistic about their chances for success. The special envoy is en route here by Pacific Clipper, bringing with him Tokoyo's formula for removal of the existing sources of friction between the two nations. This formula, the Japanese press has been hinting, may be something in the nature of an ultimatum.

Neither Thomas—who is regarded as a senate authority on Japanese-American relations—nor Capper had any idea that this government would give diplomatic ground to Kurusu. They agreed in separate interviews, however, that Japan was in no position to undertake war against the United States over differences that could be settled amicably.

On the other hand, Senator Norris (Ind-Neb) declared that it should not matter to this country what Kurusu had to say about Pacific problems.

"Japan has an agreement with Germany, and Germany is urging

BRITAIN'S PREMIER SEES REMAINDER OF WORLD JOINING WAR

CHURCHILL DROPS HINT OF GROWING INITIATIVE BY GREAT BRITAIN

By The Associated Press.

With Russia battling for life against new German threats, Britain in a great aerial offensive to relieve pressure on her ally, and the whole Orient shadowed by threats of wider war, Prime Minister Churchill warned today that the struggle soon may engulf "the remaining fourth of the globe."

This note he struck on the eve of the 23rd anniversary of armistice in a war that was to have ended wars.

This came in an address at the annual ceremony which marks the induction of a new lord mayor for the city of London.

"If the United States should become involved in war with Japan," Churchill said, "the British declaration would follow within the hour."

The prime minister asserted that Britain had "broken the morale of the Italian navy" and "we now feel ourselves strong enough to provide powerful naval forces of heavy ships with the necessary auxilliary vessels for service if need be in the Indian and Pacific oceans x x x."

This hint of a growing initiative by Britain came amid the strained Japanese-United States relations which a special Japanese envoy flying to Washington, seeks to ease

Ambassador Winart Talks.

Almost as Churchill addressed his cheering London audience, the United States ambassador to Britian, John G. Winart in a speech at Plymouth, declared that the first premise in fighting "an enemy who is ruthlessly determined on world conquest" is to "fight him on ground you choose rather than on ground he chooses."

Churchill explained that he was making his statement of British intentions in the Far East becaues "we do not know whether the efforts of the United Statees to preserve peace in the Pacific will be successful."

As for the European war, Churchill said it was already indicated that Germany soon would start a peace offensive and he pledged:

"Whether we are supported or alone, however long and hard the toil may be, the British nation and His Majesty's government at the head of the nation and in intimate concert with the governments of the great dominions will never enter into any negotiations with Hotler or any party in Germany which represents the Nazi regime."

TWO AXIS CONVOYS OF TEN SHIPS, ONE DESTROYER SUNK

FOUR BRITISH WARSHIPS IN DECISIVE ACTION AGAINST HEAVIER ITALIAN UNIT

ALEXANDRIA, Egypt, Nov. 10.—(AP)—Thousands of axis troops destined for North Africa were believed today to have been aboard ten axis supply ships, all heavily laden, which were sunk yesterday by British warships in an attack on two Italian convoys off southern Italy.

It was the greatest single blow to the Italian merchant navy since last spring, when the axis began sending large-scale reinforcements to North Africa.

The troops were believed bound to reinforce the western desert forces of Maj. Gen. Erwin Rommel, commander of axis armies in North Africa.

The action was announced here today in a British naval headquarters statement substantially like the admiralty communique issued in London.

The attack occurred off the southern Italian port of Taranto and curiously came just one day less than a year after another of the British navy's big successes which also was off Taranto—the aerial torpedoing of several Italian battleships.

LONDON, Nov. 10.—(AP)—A staggering blow to the axis' efforts to keep an open Mediterranean supply line to North Africa was claimed by the British today as they rejoiced over the admiralty's announcement that two axis convoys of ten ships and one Italian guardian destroyer were destroyed yesterday.

King George himself rewarded the commander of that action, underscoring what the admiralty, usually matter-of-fact and slow to speak, called a "brilliant and determined action" by four British warships which rushed in to attack in the face of more and heavier Italian ships, finished the

OUR BIG JOB

It is hard for Americans to realize, even yet, the size of the job that has to be done if we want a free world. Some notion may be gained from the plans of our defense chiefs at Washington. They are figuring on an expenditure of $100,000,000,000 in the next two or two and a half years. The material items include 25,000 long-range bombers, 125,000 war planes and ordinary bombers, and tens of thousands of tanks.

This immense outlay is not just to lick Hitler. It is to beat the biggest criminal conspiracy ever undertaken in human history, a conspiracy to grab, enslave and exploit the whole world and all the people in it. Until lately any such notiton as this would have been considered ridiculous or crazy. But in view of the progress already made in world conquest, and the growing boldness of the conquerors and clearness of their aims, it is no longer a laughing matter. If the nervous little man with the funny mustache defeats the Russians, he will have half the world in his hands.

MAKING PATRIOTS

Maybe one reason why we have had what might be called "patriotic trouble" in this country in late years is that we haven't been teaching patriotism in the schools. That is, not teaching it frankly and sincerely as we used to do.

There has been a feeling that patriotic talks and exercises were merely "propaganda," and that propaganda was something dreadful, to be avoided by educators. Children should be allowed to grow up with open minds, instead of having their thinking done for them and their "patterns of thought" fixed while their minds were plastic and their youthful enthusiasms were strong.

There always was something "screwy" about that policy. Human society is, and has to be, somewhat tribal, developing according to patterns. Otherwise it grows anarchistic and falls to pieces or becomes the prey of strong and ruthless leaders. We can see those two deadly extremes in what happened in France and what happened in Germany. The former got chaos and defeat and the latter got Hitler and an orgy of brutal force.

Ours is, or should be, the middle road. But first of all we should teach our children, from the cradle up, to love and respect their country and to understand and obey its laws and institutions.

We have much to do now in order to make up for lost time. "Propaganda" may be overdone, but the word in itself is legitimate. Its primary meaning is simply "teaching." Children must be taught and prepared to carry on our ideals, civilization and culture. Otherwise chaos comes.

NATIONAL TRAFFIC LAWS.

The highway accident toll for 1941 is expected to be 40,500 deaths, 1,750,000 non-fatal injuries, and economic loss of $2,000,000,000. It will be the heaviest cost in life, limb and property in the history of highway transportation. It may even be serious enough to rouse the nation to change the situation.

The first step in such action is already planned. There will be a meeting in Washington in November of police chiefs, mayors, prosecuting attorneys, judges and others having to do with the law and its administration. They will work on a uniform enforcement plan for the whole country, to be adopted and supported locally. Following the national meeting, zone meetings will be held in various parts of the country to work out application of the program to local situations.

It has already been suggested that every police officer ought to be a traffic law enforcement agent and that greater use should be made of statutes providing suspension or revocation of driver's licenses. Some authorities urge that all accident cases be handled in court rather than in traffic violation bureaus where pre-determined fines are the only penalties.

Finally, officials backing uniform traffic regulation insist that any program undertaken must be a year-round affair, not a "drive" of brief duration. Nothing but a continuing program is likely to bring the desired results.

AT WAR

The President's talk to the nation was an informal declaration of war. "We have wished to avoid shooting," he said, "but the shooting has started. And history has recorded who fired the first shot."

There seems to have been a good many first shots. At any rate here we are, pushed little by little, through aggression after aggression and one insolence after another, into a state of defensive hostility that seems to commit us almost as fully as a formal declaration. And we might go ahead on this basis without any formal action. Declarations of war are going out of style. The totalitarians have introduced this change by striking first, to get the jump on their neighbors, and making the world accept their belligerency as an accomplished fact.

It seems unlikely, however, that our Senate will allow such a transition from a pacific to a belligerent status without playing its usual role. That is, the Senate will probably insist on a long debate, with formal acceptance in the end, and with the House concurring.

Between Premier Tojo and Foreign Minister Togo, the Japs ought to get a toehold somewhere.

A timely motto: Coal for defense, and no tribute.

THE OLD RAZOR STRAP.

There was no safety razor in the days when I was small;
Men used a thick, old-fashioned blade or didn't shave at all.
Then always on the bathroom door a two-inch strap was hung
For sharpening the razor edge and sharpening the young.
And when I needed punishment—a naughty little chap—
My father thought it proper to apply that razor strap.

"It hurts me," muttered father, "more than you to treat you so,
But this I do to train you in the way that you should go.
Such dreadful misbehavior and such fearful temper fits
Are proof you need some strapping just to sharpen up your wits,
So come you to the woodshed. It is now my grave concern
To give a wholesome lesson which you seem too dull to learn.

The woodshed stands no longer, a garage is there instead,
But there is no room for humans when the car is put to bed;
No space where son and father can in conference remain
And the boy acquire instruction at the bitter cost of pain.
And something more has vanished—is it progress or mishap?
On a hook within the bathroom there is now no razor strap.

In these days of great invention shingles, too, are hard to find.
There is little left to fathers who'd improve a youthful mind.
The safety razor's handy, the electric razor's here,
But for discipline they'd nothing that a small boy has to fear.
Still, in retrospect, I'm grateful to that ancient razor strap
And the lessons that it taught me long ago at fathers' lap.

KERENS BOBCATS IN DECISIVE VICTORY VS HUBBARD ELEVEN

KERENS, Nov. 8.—(Spl.)—Kerens High School Bobcats smothered the Hubbard Jaguars here Friday afternoon, 33-0, to cinch the Division A championship of District 21-B, excelling the Hill countains in all departments of play. The Cats struck early and gained a commanding lead in the first quarter and then added other markers in the second and the fourth cantos.

Kerens cinched the game in the first four minutes of play after taking the ball over on the local 30 line. Childress, Andrews and Shelton drove down the field behind fine blocking of Coggins and Marshall with Childress going over from the 9 for the score.

Hubbard looked like it might make it a ball game after taking the kick-off and returning to the 35. McClenton made 20 and the drive did not bog down until the Kerens 30 stripe was reached A long pass was intercepted by Kerens on her 10 to stop the streat and inaugurate a 90-yard touchdown drive with Childress carrying over after May and Shelton had made long jaunts, to make the score 14-0.

Shelton carried the ball over for a touchdown in the second period to culminate a drive from near midfield behind a fine blocking and charging Kerens line.

Hubbard opened passes and drove down the field, but the Bobcat defense stiffened when endangered and had driven to the Hubbard 11-yard stripe as the third period ended.

Coggins drove over from the 1-yard line for a score on the left side. The final scoring drive by the Bobcats started on the Hubbard 35 after punts and fumble exchanges had been seen. Shelton going over for the market.

The Hubbard crew could not match the hard-charging tactics and alert football displayed by the Bobcat line.

FOOD-FOR-FREEDOM PLEDGES BE READY ABOUT NOV. 17TH

PRODUCTION PLEDGES ARE INCLUDED IN 1942 FARM PLAN SHEET OF AAA

Navarro county producers will begin signing Food-For-Freedom pledges about Nov. 17, Reuben V. Davis, chairman of the county USDA defense board, announced Friday on his return from a district defense meeting in Dallas. Similar meetings, explaining the 1942 AAA and Food-For-Freedom programs were held throughout the state to get the food production campaign in full swing, he said.

The production pledge is included in the 1942 farm plan sheet which will be used in mapping the AAA program on individual farms. Thet plan sheet is the official AAA notice of 1942 (Cotton and wheat acreage allotments, yields and marketing quotas.)

"Farmers should remember that the signing of the production pledge is not the important phase of the Food-For-Freedom campaign. It's the follow through, delivering the goods that will make the difference," Mr. Davis said in explaininng the responsibility of Navarro county farmers in meeting goals.

County quotas in the Food-For-Freedom campaign include:

Milk, 36,080,000 pounds.
Eggs, 1,663,000 dozen.
4950 family gardens.
92,100 acres of corn.
1,500 acres of vegetables for sale (excluding Irish and sweet potatoes).
160 acres sweet potatoes for sale.
190 acres of peanuts harvested.

Items For Increase.

Increases over the 1941 items include:

Hogs (marketed and slaughtered on the farm) 10 per cent.

Beef cattle (including calves) marketed, 18 per cent.

Feed grains (oats, barley, rye and grain sorghums) 8 per cent.

Sheep and lambs, 6 per cent.

Each farmer will indicate on the plan sheet the amount of production to be expected of him in 1942.

Necessary erosion-resisting acreage and soil-building practices will be indicated on the plan sheet, Davis continued. An acreage of erosion-resisting crops or land equal to 25 per cent of the cropland is required for full payment with respect to allotment crops.

Soil-building practices, which are carried out to earn soil-building payments are similar to those outlined under previous AAA programs, according to the county chairman.

"For years, we've been fighting soil-erosion. Farmers should remember that more than ever next year. We have the practices and the money under the 1942 program to carry out more soil-building work. Besides the food campaign, next year should be our banner year," the chairman said.

Richland Indians Won Over Emhouse 40 to 30

RICHLAND, Nov. 8.—(Spl.)—Richland Indians defeated the Emhouse six-man football club here Friday night, 40 to 30, in a wild scoring melee. Ties resulted in the three previous meetings of these traditional rivals.

Miss Cleo Nichols was crowned football sweetheart of the Richland club in a colorful ceremony prior to the game.

Douglas Farmer and John Milton Bartlett were the stars of the Indians on the offense while Pinkard, 190-pound center, stood out on the defense with Reeves and Prater.

Capt. Toby Allen broke away for many long runs. The Indians had scored 14 points in 2 1-2 minutes after the game started.

Emhouse featured a strong passing combination. Moorehead was the outstanding defensive player of the Pirates.

Score by periods:

Richland	14	0	18	8	—40
Emhouse	6	6	6	12	—30

Barry Girls Defeated Purdon Team 21-10

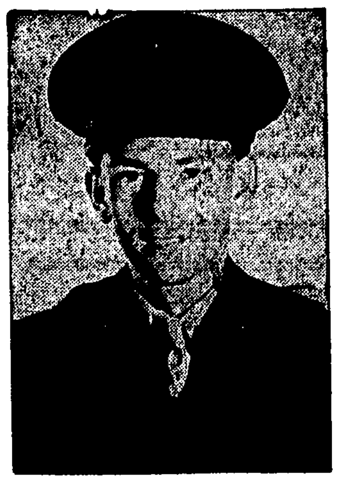
Bayonet Expert



SAN DIEGO, Cal., Nov. 7—(Spl.)—Elish W. Hobbs, (above), son of Mrs. Louise Hobbs, 1423 West Seventh Avenue, Corsicana, has the distinction of having won the Expert Badge for the bayonet while still in recruit training.

Young Hobbs enlisted in the Marine Corps on August 13, 1941, and was sent to San Diego, California, for basic training at the Marine Corps base. He is a former student of Corsicana High School.

Assignment to a Marine Corps unit on active duty now awaits Private Hobbs.

NEW CLASS CADETS TAKE UP DUTIES AT ARMY FLYING SCHOOL

A program of irientation is now in progress for the 124 members of the seventh class to report to Air Activities of Texas for the primary course in flight training, according to officials of the Air Corps training detachment.

The new group of aviation cadets will be known at 42-E and includes four student officers who transferred from other branches of the service for instruction. Actual flying will start on Monday and officials said there was a possibility some additional cadets would arrive before that time. Advance notices said the class would number approximately 130. The next class due to enter about mid-December is now scheduled to include some 150 cadets.

Members of Class 42-D, numbering 86, who survived the first five weeks of the primary course are now housed in the new barracks, and the school has a total of 210 student flyers on hand. Accommodations are available for about 50 more, and plans are being made to handle many more than this number if necessary.

Work is reported progressing rapidly on the 150-foot addition to each of the big hangars which will finally have a capacity of 105 planes. A total of 75 planes have been assigned to the school at present and most of them have arrived from the factory.

TEXAS NEEDS RURAL COMMUNITY SCHOOLS SUBJECT OF ARTICLE

"Texas Needs Rural Community Schools" is the subject of an article by W. V. Harrison, superintendent of the Frost schools, in the November issue of the "Texas Outlook," official publication of the Texas State Teachers Association.

The Navarro county educator points out that bigness is not an essential factor in the efficiency of an educational system, and also to the fact that students develop better under a normal environment which cannot be a fact if the pupils are forced distances from their homes for training. Cooperative community activity is indicated as a proper line of work.

Mr. Harrison is also listed in the official program of the annual teachers' convention at Houston Nov. 20-22 as chairman of the section for rural school administrators. Frank L. Williams of Mexia is listed as the chairman for the meeting of the Texas association of School administrators.

Sick and Convalescent.

Miss Martha Peacock, patient at the P. and S. Hospital, was reported in a critical condition there Saturday afternoon.

Miss Billie Joyce Kaiser will be removed to her home from the P. and S. Hospital Saturday afternoon.

Miss Maybell Sims, Streetman, who underwent an operation Friday at the P. and S. Hospital, was reported resting well Saturday.

O. C. Dean, who underwent an operation Friday at the P. and S. Hospital, was reported improving at the hospital Saturday afternoon.

County Council Of PTA Meets In Luncheon Session

Members of the Navarro County Parent-Teachers Council opened their fall programs with a luncheon at Kinsloe House Saturday presenting Mrs. Eleanor Hawley, Freestone County health nurse, as guest speaker.

Mrs. G. E. Moore of Frost, president of the County Council, presided at the session and presented Mrs. G. E. Ramsey, program chairman, who introduced Mrs. Hawley.

The speaker talked informally telling of the work the county health nurse does, how her organization is set up and how she contacts the people in a county. She also discussed the need for county health service.

Those serving as county health nurses must receive special training in the field of public health and pass examinations given by the state . When a nurse is sent to a county, Mrs. Hawley continued, she gets acquainted with people, divides her county into precincts and studies the health problems of her particular county. She tries to determine the diseases which cause the most deaths and establish a program of health education. She tries to prevent the spread of disease and the disease through education.

Works With School Children.

The nurse stated that a very important phase of her work deals with school children through a program of education and inspection. She emphasized the fact that the nurse works with the medical society of the county, never diagnoses a case but urges parents and families to consult their family physicians. Another important part of their work is with mothers, including pre-natal and post-natal help and education. Other duties performed by the nurse are help with pre-school immunization, teaching housekeepers the requisites of proper diets, giving health lectures in the schools, working with the cripple children of the community and aiding in any way possible.

Mrs. Hawley explained how a county goes about securing a health nurse or health unit, the latter composed of a nurse, medical director and sanitary engineer. She answered questions concerning the organizational set-up of the state health work in an open discussion at the conclusion of her address.

Luncheon Served.

Miss Virginia Scruggs, teacher in the Blooming Grove school, entertained with a vocal solo. The program followed the theme of the year's topic, "In Defense of Childhood and Youth." The program committee headed by Mrs. Ramsey of Blooming Grove, has also as its members, Mrs. Vernon Bruner of Kerens, Mrs. E. B. Dawson and Miss Sarah Holman of Corsicana. An attractive two-course luncheon was served to guests seated at tables for four, with marigolds as floral decorations.

A business session followed Mrs. Hawley's talk. Reports were made by officers and committee chairmen. Mrs. J. E. Davis of Dawson, newly elected third vice-president of the Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers, reported on the state convention held in Austin last week. She told members that the convention theme was "The Home Rediscovered" and that Mrs. Homer P. Rainey was one of the outstanding speakers for the session.

Mrs. Ramsey, program chairman, announced that the next program meeting will be held on Feb. 5 with Miss Sarah Holman in charge.

Luncheon Attendants.

Those attending the luncheon included Mrs. C. W. Collins, Mrs. Ruth Miller, Emhouse; Mrs. John Ware, Mrs. Mary Reed, Angus; Mrs. Frank Wilson, Mrs. C. D. Pevehouse, Mrs. Minnie Conner, Mrs. F. CORSICANA GIRL KILLED IN THIS BUS WRECK

Returning to Hillsboro from a football game at Kilgore, Miss Dorothy Farrar, 18, of Corsicana, was fatally injured and seven other Hillsboro Junior College students were injured, two seriously, when this bus hit a parked truck at Tyler.

FUNERAL SERVICES MISS FARRAR HELD SATURDAY MORNING

CORSICANA GIRL FATALLY INJURED IN HIGHWAY CRASH NEAR TYLER

Funeral services for Dorothy Ruth Farrar, 18, Hillsboro Junior College student, who was fatally injured in a school bus-truck accident near Tyler early Friday morning, were held Saturday morning at 10:30 o'clock from the Church of Christ. Burial was in Oakwood cemetery. The rites were conducted by Leroy Brownlow, minister of the local church, and A. E. Walker, former minister of the church.

Pallbearers were C. A. Deveney, Chas. H. Harrison, Billy Bob Smalling, Billy Whitefield, R. A. Armistead, Cato Sherrer, Harold Borg and Robert Nix.

Surviving are her parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. T. Farrar, and two brothers, Robert and Roy Farrar, all of Corsicana.

Miss Farrar was a member of the scholarship club and the debate club during her Corsicana high school years. She served two years as vice president of the National Forensic League of the high school, and participated in the declamation division in 1939, winning honors. Other activities in the high school included the Spelling Club, Home Economics Club and Shorthand and Literary Clubs. Graduating in 1940, Miss Farrar attended Abilene Christian College at Abilene last year and enrolled at the beginning of the fall term at the Hillsboro Junior College.

The accident occurred when the school bus, driven by Marvin Miller of Corsicana, also a student at Hillsboro College, struck a parked cattle truck a short distance west of Tyler. The collegians were en route home after attending the Kilgore-Hillsboro Junior College football game at the time of the accident.

Those injured in the crash that sheared one side of the bus away were rushed to three Tyler hospitals for treatment.

Those hospitalized in addtion to Miss Farrar, were Mary Frances Eastland, 18, Hillsboro, and Madge Youngblood, also of Hillsboro, critical injuries; Carolyn Rosson, Milford; Leah Beth Mitchell, Corsicana; Elizabeth Siddons, Hillsboro; Mrs. Ina Johnson, Cleburne; Billy Gayle Amerson, Hillsboro, and Miller. A number of students escaped injury.

Corley Funeral Home directed funeral arrangements.

WARNING AGAINST CARELESS HANDLING OF FIREARMS ISSUED

AUSTIN, Nov. 7.—(Spl.)—A timely and urgent warning against the careless handling of firearms during the hunting season was issued today by Doctor Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

"During the year 1940 a total of 79 deaths occurred in Texas as a result of firemen accidents, by the majority of them due to hunting activities," said Doctor Cox. "A hunter's loaded gun when not carried on safety is a menace to himself and to everyone within firing range."

Doctor Cox pointed out that while hunting is one of the nation's most enjoyable outdoor sports, this deplorable toll of human lives goes on annually due almost entirely to carelessness. "Many men go hunting year after year without harm to themselves or their companions because they handle a gun cautiously and with good sense," he declared.

"There is little excuse for the brand of carelessness of clumsiness that kills. If each hunter will use precautions to go through the hunting season without accidental injury to himself or his hunting companion, the death toll in Texas from firearm accidents will be reduced nearly seventy-five per cent," Doctor Cox stated.

Pioneer Club Of Kerens In Session Thursday Afternoon

KERENS, Nov. 8.—(Special).—The Pioneer Club meeting on Thursday of this week due to conflicting activities for Friday, had for hostesses Mrs. Earl Seale and Mrs. Howell Brister. Colorful and attractive arrangements of fall flowers, autumn leaves and berries, and an open fire created a most cheerful atmosphere in the living rooms of the Seale home, while a picturesque grouping of fruits and vegetables, with a background built of Magnolia leaves and seed pods made a charming picture on the dining room buffet.

Mrs. Charles Cherry, president, disposed of routine business matters and an interesting program on the more famous of our National Shrine was presented.

Leader was Mrs. Joe Sheppard, who told of Mt. Vernon and Arlington Cemetery, and others, while Mrs. L. E. Gray, guest, described Andrew Jackson's home, "The Hermitage" and Lincoln's birthplace and town in detail, and passed pictures of the lovely structure and the beautiful garden, of the former both of which have been restored almost en toto to their former granduer.

Made doubly interesting by the fact that these ladies had recently visited the scenes they discussed, the program was well planned and expertly given.

During the tea hour, a dainty and delectable salad plate with patriotic flags used as stick ups in the desert, was served with coffee. Welcome guest of the day was Mrs. Jim Norton.

CROP PRODUCTIONS IN IMPORTANT FARM COMMODITIES NATION

CORN PRODUCTION FORECAST ABOVE LAST YEAR AND TEN YEAR AVERAGE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10—(AP)—The agriculture department reported today that this year's corn crop is 2,675,373,000 bushels, based on Nov. 1 conditions.

Corn production was forecast at 2,625,502,000 bushels a month ago. Production was 2,449,200,000 bushels last year, and the 1930-39 ten-year average was 2,307,452,000 bushels.

The crop reporting board made no change in its preliminary estimates of a month ago on this year's wheat crop placed at 961,194,000 bushels, of which 684,966,000 bushels is winter wheat and 276,228,000 bushels spring wheat, including 44,490,000 bushels of Durum. Nor was any change made in the preliminary estimate of 1,138,843,000 bushels for this year's oat crop.

The potato crop is 376,701,000 bushels this year, compared with 374,533,000 bushels forecast a month ago, 397,722,000 bushels produced last year, and 370,045,000 bushels, the ten-year average.

The government's preliminary estimates of other crops, based on Nov. 1 conditions, with the forecast of a month ago, last year's production and the 10-year average, follow:

Buckwheat 6,392,000 bushels, compared with 6,109,000 a month ago, 6,350,000 last year, and 7,315,000 the 10-year average.

Rice 55,128,000 bushels, compared with 57,394,000, 52,754,000 and 45,673,000.

Grain sorghums 146,919,000 bushels, compared with 152,143,000, 121,371,000 and 84,253,000.

Soybeans for beans 111,300,000 bushels, compared with 111,618,000, 79,837,000 and 35,506,000.

Beans (dry edible) 17,940,000 bags of 100 pounds each, compared with 18,226,000, 16,074,000 and 13,297,000.

Peanuts 1,474,690,000 pounds compared with 1,480,280,000, 1,734,840,000 and 1,063,374,000.

Sweet potatoes 70,844,000 bushels, compared with 70,147,000, 61,998,000 and 73,208,000.

Apples 126,121,000 bushels, compared with 124,754,000, 114,391,000 and 125,310,000.

Pears 30,820,000 bushels, compared with 30,907,000, 31,622,000 and 27,278,000.

Pecans 84,759,000 pounds, compared with 84,909,000, 88,426,000 and 64,676,000.

Food for Defense: III

Farmers Taught Tricks For Upping Output

(Last of a series.)

By JOHN GROVER

AP Feature Service Writer

WASHINGTON — When they pass out the medals after this emergency, some U. S. farmers and scientists who never heard a gun should get a hatful.

Scientists are doing the quarterbacking and farmers are carrying the ball in this food-for-defense program. The goal is the greatest production of farm products in U. S. history in 1942. It will keep America and Britain eating at par next year if it's successful.

The 1942 quotas pile a back-breaking job on American farmers. They're asked to produce double normal harvests of some commodities. To make it harder, the metals and chemicals shortages threaten supplies of farm machinery and fertilizers. There's already a shortage of farm labor in some districts.

To top it off, they've got to abandon familiar, overproduced crops to grow unfamiliar temperamental groceries. Farmers who have devoted their lives to raising cotton may change to soybean production. That's like asking a lifelong plumber to do a snappy job of bricklaying tomorrow.

The department of agriculture research and experimental staffs are the best agricultural scientists in the world. For more than 50 years they've been patiently, quietly raising production and efficiency standards on U. S. farms.

Liasion officers between the laboratories and the nation's farms are the county farm agents. It's their job to see that farmers get the dope on the production short cuts in time to do some good.

Breakdown analysis of the production problem shows three prime ways to boost output. First increase acreage or other production units; second, produce more per acre; third, eliminate waste.

The scientist-farmer partnership is using all three in the more-food war.

They're stepping up the acreage of soybeans, peanuts and vegetable oil sources. Plus that, "ag" research has increased production of soybeans per acre to 18 bushels from an average of ten. Increased acreage plus increased yield will up soybean harvests 100 per cent next year, if average weather prevails.

The scientists found, for instance, that some soybean varieties were strictly union. Work 'em overtime, and they quit cold. Varieties that thrived in the deep south wouldn't produce up north. Reason was, northern summer days are considerably longer, and the southern varieties weren't used to that extra daylight. They're working to eliminate that growth-limiting factor now.

Increased dairy production means scientific feeding. There isn't time to breed a new generation of heifers for production right now. The need is desperate. More milk per cow, through increased feeding, is the answer.

The farm scientists also think they've got something big in a new growth stimulant food in corn pollen. Vice President Henry A. Wallace, who is practically "Mr. Corn" himself in his native Iowa, suggested the research. They take corn pollen, gathered by bees, and soak it in ether. The gummy residue is chuck full of "X," a mysterious what-is-it that makes plants grow like Jack's beanstalk.

They don't know what it is. They do know a little bit dabbed on the stem of a growing plant makes it shoot up in a way to make mushrooms livid with envy. Bureau of plant industry chemists are busting their gallusses now to isolate "X" and make it practical. It might even be ready, with luck, in time to boost food-for-defense totals.

There are other ways the scientific planners, with farm cooperation, ar fertilizing crops with brains.

County agents are singing a song of farm gardens. They want more than 5,000,000 big vegetable gardens on farms in 1942. Greenstuff that 5,000,000 families would buy in cans will be produced at home, releasing that that amount for current needs and the stockpiles.

They're suggesting that whole milk be shipped to creameries. Dairymen now ordinarily separate the cream on the farm, ship that, and feed the skim milk to hogs.

Smart farming is helping to prevent a fertilizer shortage. There'll be an increase in cover crops, to be plowed back into the soil for their vital nitrogen.

Hogs are being fed until they reach heavier weights. In normal times, the 225-pound hog is ideal. Now it's sound economy to feed 'em longer for lard-heavy hogs. Same thing with chickens for meat. Lard and canned chicken are on the "must" list of defense foods.

Feed stocks have been surveyed in every producing area. Where local production is short, and a scarcity threatens, they've moved in supplies from surplus holdings.

They used their heads, too, and shipped the grain in before the fall shortage of freight cars. They're using their heads all the time in this food-of-defense program. *

BEAN, LEFT, treated with corn pollen growth stimulant. Bean at right, same age, untreated. The extract was dabbed on stem of treated plant just above lower leaves.

SECRETARY WICKARD examining experimental apparatus used in devising a new method for making evaporated milk with a higher solids content.

"Food will write the Peace."

Already American farmers in all parts of the country are responding to their nation's call for more food—food for better diets here at home in this defense period, food for the British people who are fighting in the front line against Hitlerism, food for stockpiles against the day when peace comes and the half-starved people of Europe will look to us for help.

Food will win the war and write the peace. It is an essential weapon in the battle for freedom. The American farmer is the one man in the world who can forge this particular weapon.

Production goals for 1942 call for the greatest farm output of any single year. Although we need less of some crops, we need so much more of many food products that the general trend of production will be up. This increase will have to be made in the face of shortages of equipment, materials and regional scarcities of farm labor. But I am confident that farmers will surmount those difficulties and meet the production goals.

The great agricultural adjustments which now are taking place are one of the most important developments of our time. It is no short-time move. There will be no back-tracking after the war is won. The full output of America's farms will be needed in the future to meet the nutritional needs of our own people more adequately than in the past. We never can turn. back to the days of unsold farm surpluses and hungry people.

Claude R. Wickard

Secretary of Agriculture.

TRAIN WRECK

eight cars upset. Only one remained on the rails.

The "Pennsylvanian" was the newest train on this division of the Pennsylvania, making its first run Sept. 28.

Most of the victims apparently were passengers in the third coach back of the locomotive. It literally was split and flung apart.

Several bodies were tossed from the coach along the right-of-way, said Guy Davis of Chicago, who was riding in a club car farther back.

John Sweafeldt of Chicago, a passenger, said that he and other persons in a club car remarked that they thought the train was "running irregularly" after it left Lima, O., 25 miles west of Dunwirk.

Felt Like Something Hard

He described it as feeling "like something hard was on the track."

Kenton's two hospitals were so overloaded with injured that all doctors and nurses in the city reported for duty in treating the injured.

A relief train, made up at Crestline, O., was sent to the accident scene to take passengers to meet another train in Pittsburgh.

The crash occurred on the western edge of Dunkirk.

Thet control tower was splintered but miraculously Schwartzkouf and Bucky Davis, has assistant, crawled out unhurt.

Schwartzkopf said the locomotive veered from the rails just before it passed the tower. The first car of the train jolted on past the locomotive. The second car rammed into the engine and was smashed badly.

Injured and dead alike were taken into Dunkirk's little wooden depot. Ambulances summoned from all neighboring communities hurried the injured to hospitals, and then returned for the dead who were lined side by side on the floor of the depot.

Engineer Schuler escaped with a broken leg, but his fireman, J. L. Gephart of Fort Wayne, was killed.

Four wreck crews started before daybreak cleaning up the wreckage.

At Chicago, H. E. Newcomet, vice president of the Pennsylvania Railroad said that the wreck of "The Pennsylvanian" was caused, according to a preliminary investigation, when the speeding passenger train struck a cylinder head which was blown out of a passing freight locomotive.

Newccomet, in a statement said: "The locomotive on the freight train FW-33, bound from Crestline, O., to Ft. Wayne, Ind., with 48 cars, blew out its left front cylinder head just west of the station at Dunkirk.

"The cylinder head fell on the adjoining east-bound track immediately thereafter and before there was time to flag it, (The Pennsylvanian), moving at high speed on the east bound track, struck the damaged cylinder head, derailing and turning over the engine and wrecking the eight cars in the passenger train."

NAVAL ACTION

job and reached port without so much as a scratch.

The King, it was announced, has made Capt. W. G. Agnew a commander of the order of the bath for the feat of the two destroyers and two cruisers he commanded in the action.

Captain Agnew is one of the outstanding gunnery experts of the British navy and informed sources said that might account for the admiralty's claim that every convoyed vessel was hit.

In one respect, the Italians exceeded the British claim by acknowledging that two of their destroyers were sunk and another damaged.

They declared, however, that the number of merchantmen sunk was seven and that in a retaliatory air attack a British cruiser and destroyer were struck by air-launched torpedoes.

What otherwise would be a day of unreserved jubilation for Britain's sea dogs was marred by the admiralty's announced that the Cossack, perhaps Britain's best known destroyer, had been lost. The two events apparently were unrelated.

The bare announcement gave no details of how the Cossack—which helped sink the Nazi battleship Bismark, rescued 300 British merchant seamen from the prison ship Altmark and fought in the battle of Narvik—went down or how how many of her crew were lost.

The admiralty's communique on the convoy raid contained Prime Minister Churchill's "congratulations upon this most important and timely action, which gravely interrupts the enemy's supply lines to Africa and impedes his long-boasted offensive against the Nile Valley."

Italians Admit Losses.

ROME, Nov. 10.—(AP)—The high command said today British naval units had sunk some steamers of an Italian convoy along with two Italian destroyers in the central Mediterranean the night of Nov. 8 and had damaged another destroyer slightly.

RUSSIAN

ground forces in the Leningrad offensive had been assembled hurriedly from Norway and other occupied countries after the United States urged Finland to leave Germany's side.

Attacks were said to be underway both down the Karelian Isthmus due north of the city, beleaguered now for three months, and between Lake Ladoga and Onega to the northeast.

Before Moscow also there was action.

The Berlin radio declared German forces had destroyed 80 Red army bunkers in the capital's defense zone; Moscow dispatches told of the recapture of the strategic village of "S" in the Volokolamsk sector and destruction of 102 German tanks, 324 motor vehicles and three infantry battalions there in two days of fighting.

Celebrated Buildings Damaged.

KUIBYSHEV, Soviet Russia, Nov. 10.—(AP)—Two of Moscow's most celebrated buildings, the Bolshoi theatre and Moscow University, are reported to have been damaged in German bombings.

Bombs fell in the theatre entry and dug a deep crater, broke some sculpture and cracked the front wall, but left the marble column facade intact.

The university, adjoining the United States embassy building, was reported to have suffered a direct hit and much damage. The monument of Mikhail Lomonosov, poet-scientist founder of the institution, was destroyed.

The embassy windows were broken but the embassy staff living at Spaso House is safe.

INTERNATIONAL

ish aerial offensive against axis positions in Europe, Churchill declared that the RAF now "is at least equal in size and number, not to speak of quality, to German air power."

Leningrad, which Adolf Hitler boasted he could storm and capture whenever he wished to, was being enfolded today by two wide-swinging encirclement offensives of the Germans—a bit of grand strategy dictated apparently by the chance that Finland might step out of the war before Hitler is ready.

The Hitler command announced capture of the important traffic junction of Tikhivin, about 100 miles southeast of Leningrad, by a force moving across the Leningrad-Moscow communications zone.

The other arm of the offensive, from the northeast over Karelian approaches won by the Finns, was disclosed in advices reaching London. The Germans were not talking much about this phase of the new campaign, but it came as a sequel to a suggestion from the United States that Finland make a separate peace with Russia.

A DNB dispatch reaching London today said that the Finnish government's reply was expected within a few days.

The capture of Tikhvin, on the night of Nov. 8, the Germans said, was the result of a surprise attack and gave the attackers "numerous prisoners and large booty." The captives were part of 20,000 reported taken on the northern front since Oct. 16, raising the total for the war so far to 3,623,000, according to the Nazi statistics.

Pounding at Door of Sevastopol.

More than 1,000 miles south of Leningrad, German troops and their Rumanian comrades volleyed and thundered against the Russian defenses of Sevastopol, big Red fleet base at the tip of the Crimean Peninsula—the setting which produced the storied charge of the light brigade in the second Crimean war.

The Germans said they had blasted a wide breach between the Russians defending Sevastopol and those clinging to the narrow approaches to Kerch, to the northeast, sought by the Germans as a jump-off point for a thrust into the Caucasus.

Late in the day the official German news agency admitted that desperate Russian counter-attacks had brought the German advance on Sevastopol "to a temporary standstill" but only after the Russians had fallen "by the hundreds."

The Moscow front appeared to be static but a London source said that there was "heavy fighting and stubborn resistance" by the Russians in both the Leningrad and Moscow sectors. This source added that the Germans had failed thus far to pierce the outer defenses of Sevastopol.

That port city was reported under aerial and land bombardment on a twenty-four-hour schedule. Kerch likewise was being pounded from the air.

The regular mid-day communique of the Russians, typically cryptic, said that fighting continued through the night all along the front but no specific mention was made of the Crimea where fierce combat had been acknowledged.

New Drive on Moscow Expected

The Moscow radio, saying German reserves were moving up again before the Soviet capital, forecast a renewal of the central front drive soon and added: "Our troops are ready."

The RAF struck at Germany and German-occupied zones overnight, chiefly at Hamburg, for the third night in a row. A London authority said more than 100 planes took part and two were lost. It was part of a week-end aerial offensive aimed at German positions from occupied Norway to the Mediterranean.

London authorities said the British navy had wiped out two axis Mediterranean convoys of ten supply ships and at least one destroyer without suffering a scratch.

Italy acknowledged that seven Italian merchantmen and two destroyers were lost in a fierce battle off the instep of the Italian boot—crediting the British with sinking one more destroyer than they claimed but three fewer cargo ships—and added that aerial torpedo hits were scored in retaliation on two of the British warships.

The London admiralty announced loss of the famous destroyer Cossack, without giving any further details.

Played Roles in Exploits.

This warship had played roles in three of the British navy's most famous exploits of this war—the boarding of the German prison ship Altmark in a Norwegian fjord in February, 1940, when 300 British merchant seamen were delivered, the battle of Narvik fjord less than two months later and the sinking of the German battleship Bismarck last May.

By the admiralty's own announcements, the Cossack was not involved in the recent Mediterranean battle.

Britain was jubilant over that crippling blow to the supply of axis armies in Libya and the success suggested that the British might choose Libya as a likely theater for a second active front against the axis.

Fitting into the picture of Britain's steadily improving hand in Africa and the rest of the Middle East, was a declaration today from a Vichy colonial ministry representative that the fall of Jibuti, Red Sea port and principal city of French Somaliland, was imminent.

Thousands of fresh soldiers drawn from garrisons in Norway and other German-occupied lands were declared in London dispatches to have been massed for the attack upon Leningrad's defenses both east and west of Lake Ladoga.

Death came to 2,500 of them, the Moscow radio said, in a Soviet victory at the village of Kestenga.

German airmen said big fires were started in Leningrad, and fifty-three Russian planes were shot down yesterday in aerial attacks.

Getting Ahead of Finland.

Russian sources in London expressed belief the Germans hoped to close breaks in the siege lines cutting the defenders off from rail outlets to Moscow and water routes of Lake Ladoga and the Gulf of Finland, before their Helsinki allies reply to Washington's peace suggestion.

It was only Saturday night that Adolf Hitler, in a speech at Munich, said the Germans were on the defensive before Leningrad, but that the city's troops would starve before they broke out.

Germans told of the capture of Yalta, Crimean port thirty miles southeast fo the fortified naval base of Sevastopol, and were reported to be threatening Sevastopol itself.

Since Thursday, seventeen Soviet transports have been sunk and thirty others damaged, by bombs the Germans said, and twenty Russian warships and thirty-four freighters have been sent to the bottom of the Black Sea since November 1.

Many Red Army Bunkers Smashed.

The Berlin radio declared eighty Red army bunkers had been smashed in an action before Moscow, but did not specify the sector. Delayed dispatches from Kuibyshev acknowledged that Germans had penetrated the southern suburbs of Tula, munitions center 100 miles south of the capital.

Barring of Japanese commercial establishments from Panama brought sharp comment by Tokyo newspapers, which declared Washington must bear the responsibility of Japanese-American relations were strained anew by the Panama government's action.

Hochi asserted the United States had engineered the recent coup which deposed Arnulfo Arias as president of Panama as part of a plan to eliminate all Japanese from the Canal Zone area.

In Washington, Senators Thomas (Dem.) of Utah) and Capper (Rep.) of Kansas, of the senate foreign relations committee expressed belief that differences between the United States and Japan would be adjusted in forthcoming conversations between state department officials and Japan's special envoy, Saburo Kurusu.

Brazilian Co-operation Pladged.

RIO De JANEIRO, Nov. 10.—(AP)—President Getulio Vargas, speaking today on the fourth anniversary of his "new state," pledged Brazil's full cooperation for a "common defense" of the Americas.

"Our policy of a frank continental solidarity will continue uniform and unvarying," the President said at a luncheon given him in the war ministry.

"We shall remain loyal to the obligations we have assumed. There can be no doubt about the unity of action of the Americas, which has moved from the realm of treaties into that of reality.

"Wherever any American nation is, there is sister nations of the hemisphere ought to be, and we will be among them, ready to undertake a common defense."

COTTON CROP

The 1941 cotton crop has been produced under very unfavorable weather conditions. It was planted and replanted between rains, and harvest is progressing in like manner. In the northwestern districts, the crop was maturing and opening slowly, and harvest had just started by Nov. 1 in the northern portions of the high plains and in the northern portions of the low plains.

Rapid Ginning.

In the southern portions of these districts, however, picking and ginning progressed rapidly as weather conditions permitted harvest. In East, Central and South Texas was perhaps the worst on record and continued rains have made it hard to save the small crop produced. In the southeast district, floods, almost continuous rains, insects, and finally a tropical storm have been the contributing factors to the small crop in this district.

Ginnings in Texas to Nov. 1, 1941, are reported by the Bureau of Census at 1,498,000 running bales, compared with 2,550,000 bales ginned to the same date last year, and 2,554,000 bales to Nov. 1, 1939. During the past ten years the western and northwestern districts have produced about one-third of the Texas cotton crop.

This year will produce about 56 per cent of the state's crop. This shift in production partially explains the small amount of cotton ginned to date.

Corporation Court.

Seven charges of intoxication, one of speeding, one of assault, one of running over a stop sign, one of operating a car with defective brakes, eighteen of parking overtime in the metered sections, one of improper parking, and four of parking in a loading zone brought offenders into the Corsicana Corporation Court Monday morning.

Report of Montfort Red Cross Sewing Club For October

The Montfort Red Cross Sewing Club has issued the following report for the month of October:

The club has been meeting each Wednesday since April 30. Hostesses during the past month have ben Mrs. Hattie Cates, Mrs. Homer Marshall, Mrs. Young Hawkins, Mrs. Melvin Gorman and Mrs. D. D. Wylie.

The bootee contest ended the sixth week with Mrs Fred Spyvie and Mrs. Budo Gorman winner, with 54 pairs of bootees each to their credit. The winners were presented with gifts.

Flowers were bought for a hospital patient and donations were made to purchase two dressing table lamps for Mrs. P. M. Bobo, club member who is moving soon to Dallas. Names were drawn at the last meeting to select a "secret sister" and henceforth each club member will receive a gift from the "sister" each month.

Social event during October was a domino party and farewell shower honoring Mr. and Mrs. Joe Sims, residents of Montfort, who are moving to Round Prairie. The party was given at the home of Mrs. Budo Gorman. The club has cut and finished 134 pairs of bootees, fifty sacques, 22 caps, five gertrudes, knitted 24 sweaters and crocreted part of an afghan. The club will meet next Wednesday with Mrs. Budo Gorman.

INTERMENT MADE AT DRESDEN SUNDAY FOR GEORGE F. UPSHAW

FUNERAL RITES SUNDAY AFTERNOON HERE FOR DALLAS RESIDENT

Funeral services for George F. Upshaw, 76, who died in Dallas late Thursday, were held Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the Corley chapel. Burial was in the Dresden cemetery. The rites were conducted by Rev. Jack Goff, pastor of the North Side Baptist church.

Surviving are four daughters. Mrs. J. A. Moore, Dallas; Mrs. Mae Moore, East Camp, N. M.; Mrs. Gelene Goodner, Duncan, Ariz., and rs. tella Farley, Sacramento, Calif., and a son, Allen Upshaw, Blackfoot, Idaho, and other relatives.

LITTLE BOY STRUCK BY AUTOMOBILE AND SERIOUSLY INJURED

Kenneth E. Scott, aged 4 years, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Scott, received serious head injuries shortly before noon Sunday when he was struck by an automobile at the intersection of South Sixteenth street and West Thirteenth avenue. Police said the child was injured while crossing the street. The car was reported driven by C. O. Gunter, 1508 West Thirteenth avenue.

The child was taken to the Navarro Clinic.

FUNERAL SERVICES HELD SUNDAY FOR WILLIAM B. ELKINS

Funeral services for William Bruette Elkins, aged 58 years, who died in Dallas Friday, were held Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock with burial in the Richland cemetery.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Connie Lee Elkins, Dallas; two sons, Joe C. Elkins, Kelly Field, and Arthur B. Elkins, Monahans; two sisters, Mrs. G. W. Garland, Mineola, and Mrs. Ida White, Richland; and three brothers, J. Elkins and Gordon Elkins, both of Corsicana, and Van J. Elkins, Richland.

Corley Funeral Home directed local arrangements.

THE WAR TODAY

working pretty well for such an offensive, judging from today's claim of the destruction of two axis convoys of ten ships and at least one destroyer (the Italians admit the loss of two destroyers). Those convoys probably were headed for Africa.

However, Britain's greatest land aid for the immediate future probably can be given to the Russians in the Caucasus, to keep the Germans away from the oil they need so badly, and to close the gateway against them into the Middle East. That is the crucial area at the moment.

From that operation might easily spring a great allied front in western Russia. That would seem to be the logical development, for the British already are well established in the Middle East. Indeed, it seems highly probable that the land war will develop in exactly that way.

RITES MONDAY FOR MISS M. E. PEACOCK, WHO DIED SUNDAY

Funeral services were held Monday morning at 10 o'clock from the Church of Christ for Miss Martha E. Peacock, aged 50 years, who died at the P. and S. Hospital Sunday after an extended illness. The rites were conducted by Leroy Brownlow, minister of the church. Burial was in the Hamilton cemetery.

Miss Peacock made her home with a niece, Mrs. J. T. Griffin, in Corsicana.

Surviving are three brothers, Keat Peacock, Streetman; George Peacock, Powell, and Ed Peacock, Houston.

Corley Funeral Home directed arrangements.

SUPREME COURT REFUSES TO REVIEW CONVICTION NEGRO

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—(AP)—The supreme court refused today to review the conviction of Nehemiah Glover, 28-year old negro under a sentence of death for the slaying of John F. Lee at his home near Houston, Texas, May 1, 1940.

Glover, who was originally sentenced to die in the electric chair last Sept. 28, appealed from the Texas court of criminal appeals. Execution of the sentence was stayed by Justice Frankfurter pending the high court's action.

The condemned negro told the court he was whipped with a rubber hose and otherwise mistreated to force a confession. The state contended there was no objection at the trial to the use of the confession.

ARMY'S AIR FORCE RATED AS FINEST IN WORLD BY PATTERSON

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—(AP)—Under Secretary of War Robert P. Patterson today rated the army's air forces "the finest in the world" adding that they combined the most successful features of Britain's R. A. F. and the Nazi luftwaffe.

Patterson gave his appraisal in restating the war department's opposition to congressional agitation for the creation of a wholly independent air force as a third division of the armed services.

A separate airforce, he asserted, would mean a "triplication" of the present army and navy efforts, but without any corresponding multiplication of effectiveness.

"Teamwork is the first essential of a military organization," he said. "You can not teamwork when you have separation of organization and separation of command." x x x

"The chief value of an air force in the present war has been shown by the Germans, who have a highly integrated army, even to the point of assigning certain aviation to brigade commanders," he stated in an article written for the Junior Chamber of Commerce magazine, future.

CONSTRUCTION BIG MAGNESIUM PLANT AT VELASCO TO START

FREEPORT, Nov. 10.—(AP)—Construction of a $52,000,000 magnesium plant a mile northwest of Velasco will begin as soon as preliminary arrangements, including purchase of several hundred acres of land, can be completed, according to officials of the Dow Chemical Company.

Magnesium metal and bromine are being produced from seawater at plants located at the intersection of the Freeport harbor and the intracoastal canal.

The new plant will have an annual capacity of 72,000,000 pounds, twice the capacity of the two units now in production here. It will be operated by the Dow Magnesium Corporation, a subsidiary of the Dow Chemical Company.

Contract for its construction has been let to the Austin Company, builders of the other Dow plants here, which will employ 5,000 men on the job. A canal to carry seawater to the plant will be dredged from near the intersection of the Freeport harbor and the intracoastal canal and will run along the east and north side of the drainage canal for the other plants, a distance of approximately five miles. Railroad and Highway connections are to be made as construction begins.

Construction of the first magnesium plant on the Freeport harbor began in March 1940, and on Jan. 1941, the first magnesium metal from seawater was poured.

LEGION PARADE

sioner, and Fred V. Blucher, post commander.

City Patrolmen K. C. Blakney and M. O. Adams will head the procession on motorcycles, followed by Fred Prince and Fred M. Allison, Jr., on horses, carrying the United States and Texas flags.

Behind them will follow the 40 piece State Home band and the American Legion official car, carrying Mayor John C. Calhoun, County Judge E. D. McCormick, Andrew G. Steele, vice commander of the State of Texas American Legion; and Mrs. W. H. Milam, Jr., president of the local Legion Auxiliary.

Following will be the American Legion colors together with 150 American Legion veterans and the Legion float. Forty Foreign War veterans will march in this section also.

Two Red Cross floats have been entered and will immediately follow the Legion unit. The colorful forty-piece Cowboy band will head the local Home Guard unit, consisting of 120 guardsmen in uniform.

Immediately following will be entries of the Salvation Army, Boy Scouts, and the YMCA.

The sixty-piece Corsicana High School band will head the next section, followed by the Corsicana High School pep squad, consisting of sixty girls.

Following them will be floats entered by the Camp Fire Girls and members of the W.C.T.U.

The IOOF Band of thirty pieces will come next, heading 200 uniformed Air Corps Cadets from the local Air Activities of Texas, followed by members of the Fire Department with the fire trucks.

Ending the parade will be the colorful High School Band and Pep Squad.

Schools Will Dismiss.

The Corsicana public schools will dismiss for the holiday. The schools have observed Armistice Day as a regular holiday for a number of years.

The Post Office will observe a partial holiday, closing at 12 o'clock noon. All departments will remain open Tuesday morning, however, and one city delivery made. No rural routes will be worked during the day, but all incoming mail will be boxed and outgoing mail dispatched.

Banks will observe a full holiday.

All departments of the city government will be closed except the police and fire divisions.

All branches of the county government will observe the holiday, except the law enforcement agencies.

Relief At Last For Your Cough

Chronic bronchitis may develop if your cough, chest cold, or acute bronchitis is not treated and you cannot afford to take a chance with any medicine less potent than Creomulsion which goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes.

Creomulsion blends beechwood creosote by special process with other time tested medicines for coughs. It contains no narcotics.

No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough, permitting rest and sleep, or you are to have your money back. (Adv.)

We shall pause with the rest of the democracies on November 11 to pay homeage to those men and women who died in the past war to make this world free of wars and barbarism.

We shall pause to beseech our God for good and wise men who shall lead the new peace conferences, that they shall establish an order where men, women and children are considered rather than nations; where life and liberty are holier than imperialism; where the pursuit of happiness is more paramount than wealth and power!

HEALTH, BEAUTY AND POISE

HOW TO IMPROVE YOUR PERSONALITY

By VERONICA DENGEL

GROWING UP.

Shirley Temple, MGM star, is quite grown up in her newest picture, "Kathleen," and in her actual apeparance. Her hair is darker, she is much thinner, and gives every evidence of being a very poised young lady. We do dislike so much to see our youngsters grow up—but this they must do, and will do no matter how much one may try to keep them still children. Try and adjust yourself to their changing ideas, their changing appearance; give them new and greater responsibilities; ask, and use, their advice when you can—it gives them such a sense of importance to themselves and is of valuable help to you.

My daughter is struggling with her first clothes budget. I have set up a certain sum as being the amount she may spend for clothes in the coming year. A few days ago I had a letter saying that she had bought a skirt for $8.95 and was getting a pair of alligator shoes for $10.95! Then yesterday she wrote that she thought the skirt a little small and was exchanging it for one at $10.95 but that she had found suede shoes at $8.95—which left her with the same expenditure! But now she must have green moccasins to go with the skirt since the suede shoes would really go with another dress so much better! Well, I'm just letting her figure it all out—and shall just make up wardrobe deficits that are too great when Christmas comes. Just another joy of motherhood — getting surprises for Christmas! I can't wait to get home and start planning for them.

Leah Beth Mitchell Brought Home From Hospital in Tyler

Leah Beth Mitchell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Mitchell, was brought home from a Tyler hospital Sunday. She suffered a broken jaw and other injuries in a bus-truck crash at Tyler at an early hour Friday morning when Dorothy Ruth Farrar was fatally injured and seven Hillsboro College enthusiasts were injured.

Several of the injured students were taken to their homes during the week-end, although several are still in Tyler hospitals.

Two Injured Near Barry Saturday In Automobile Crash

Two persons received head and other injuries but were not seriously hurt as a result of a collision of two automobiles on Highway 22 near Barry early Saturday night. Both automobiles turned over. Constable Bill Lee reported after answering the call.

A. R. Mauldin of Blooming Grove, driver of one of the cars, was rushed to the P. and S. Hospital in a Corley ambulance with hand and head injuries. He was discharged Sunday.

Gladys Faye Richards, 20-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Richards of Barry, was brought to the Navarro Clinic by Ernest Watson, who resides near the scene of the crash. Several cuts about the head were sustained. The baby was discharged from the clinic Sunday.

Mrs. Richards and three children were in a car that was driven on to the highway from a side-road, while the Mauldin car was occupied only by the driver, the officer said.

Both cars were demolished.

JAPANESE

Japan on against us," Norris told reporters. "I have thought for a long time that our first real trouble may come in the Pacific—that we might have to fight first against Japan. We certainly cannot let Japan tell us what to do."

Senator Smith (D-SC) an opponent of administration foreign policy, told reporters that enactment of the neutrality revision legislation permitting American ships to carry arms and sail to belligerent ports might cause the navy to use its most powerful units in the Battle of the Atlantic.

In such event, he added, "I think there is no doubt that we would become involved with Japan. If we are killing people in the Atlantic Japan knows we are at war, and that will encourage them to cause us trouble."

No Unsurmountable Differences.

Thomas said that he did not believe that "there are any differences with Japan that can not be ironed out."

"What can they do against us?" he asked. "They are faced not only with the United States but Canada, all of South America, Gerat Britain, Australia, New Zealand and Holland."

Even though this country should become fully involved in an Atlantic naval war, Thomas declared, there is little chance that hostilities will develop with Japan. He said he did not expect the Kurusu conversations to result in any formal agreement, but added that the Pacific situation probably would remain status quo for a long time to come.

Saying he believed "that our differences with Japan will be smoothed over," Capper added that "Japan would not be sending a special envoy to this country unless she hoped to make some adjustment."

"I think our main trouble will come to the east of us instead of to the west of us," the Kansan said.

Wheat Advances Slightly

CHICAGO, Nov. 10.—(AP)—Wheat prices tacked on small net gains at times today in a listless pre-holiday trade but corn and soybeans eased lower due partly to belief that better harvesting weather should lead to increased receipts of these commoditites.

Wheat derived some support from latest government figures showing recent lending operations have been on a large scale and from Canadian export sales of 2,000,0000 bushels to Great Britain.

Wheat closed unchanged to 3-8 higher compared with Saturday, December $1.16 1-8 1.16, May $1.21 1-4 1-8. After dropping 3-8 to 5-8 cent, corn rallied to close unchanged to 1-4 higher, December 77 3-4, May 83 1-4 1-2. Soybeans, which showed losses of 1 to 1 1-2 cents at one time, closed 3-4 lower to 3-8 higher; oats unchanged to 1-8 off; rye 1-4 lower.

STOCK MARKET HAD LITTLE INTEREST TO BUYERS ON MONDAY

By VICTOR EUBANK

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—(AP)—The stock market today was an island surrounded almost entirely by skepticism and prices generally wilted from lack of bidding sustenance.

Efforts to put props under the list at the start met with only feeble response and trends soon began to point downward.

Transfers were around 600,000 shares.

Pleasings dividends and earnings statements, brokers said, were more than offset as market factors by persistent doubts anent taxes, labor and revived uneasiness over the Far Eastern situation. Prime Minister Churchill's promise that Britain would join the United States if the latter became involved in a Pacific conflict brought the thought the Japanese problem was far from settled.

STRIKES

airfield, destroyer base, radio station and destroyer graving dock.

Rear Admiral Charles A. Blakely, commandant of the naval district, said the navy "cannot tolerate further delay in its vital construction program" and that he would stand on his order that work be resumed on all projects.

Want Dollar Day More.

Originally at issue was a union demand that the wage scale be increased $1 a day to equal the rate the union says prevails on similar jobs elsewhere . This would give electricians $12 a day, tilesetters, cement finishers and iron workers $11, carpenters $10 and laborers $7.

Up to the executive board of the AFL teamsters union was a reiterated request by President Roosevelt that striking workers of the Railway Express Agency in Detroit go back to work while a mediation board considered their grievances. The strike was called Oct. 4 to support a demand for union recognition.

With only six days remaining of a truce granted by the United Mine Workers, the defense mediation board was expected to decide within a day or two whether to recommend that the UMW be given a union shop in the coal mines of seven steel companies.

Under a union shop all miners would be required to join the UMW. To enforce the demand John L. Lewis, chief of the UMW, called the 53,000 miners out last month but at President Roosevelt's request sent them back, under a truce expiring Saturday, while the mediation board considered the issue.

Food Supply Runs Short.

Meanwhile the food supply was running short for 100 workers who remained in the General Motors assembly plant at Linden, N. J., when CIO's United Automobile Workers called a strike, but they declined a union offer to open up the picket lines and let them out.

The strike was called Thursday as a protest against working conditions and what the union said was the discharge of more than 200 in the last few months. The walkout affected 4,000.

The ivied confines of Yale University provided an unusual background for a strike called by a CIO organization of janitors, maids and other maintenance workers seeking a union shop. The University declined to grant the demand, contending that to do so would place "unwarranted restrictions" on hiring workers and directing their labor.

Week-end disclosure by the Office of Production Management that defense strikes in the sixteen months ended Oct. 1 totaled 123 and cost 2,349,600 man-days of work was followed by indications that the administration night support legislation to restrict sharply the conditions under which such walkouts could be called.

Would Require Registration.

Senator Bridges (Dem.) of New Hampshire, a supporter of the president's foreign policy, drafted a bill which would require unions to register with the national labor relations board, file lists of their executives and furnish a financial accounting. It would forbid the calling of a defense strike unless a majority of a union's members voted for one in secret balloting conducted by the board. The penalty would be suspension of collective bargaining rights.

Signs that Bridges might have administration support for his proposal and OPM officials who earlier had canvassed the strike situation in conferences with President Roosevelt.

Another straw in the wind may have been an address last night in New York by Sidney Hillman, OPM associate director, who asserted that in the face of defense needs "strikes as usual" were no more justified than "business as usual."

He said he did not have in mind abolition of the right to strike, but did believe no walkouts should be called until government conciliation and mediation agencies had failed to work out solution of defense labor disputes.

By JOHN GROVER,
AP Weature Service Writer.

WASHINGTON — Missus'Awkins of the bombed-out London 'Awkinses and Mrs. John J. Jones of Anywhere, U. S. A. won't know their own dinner tables when this war is over.

Reason is, the Department of Agriculture's whopping food-for-defense program proposes to salvage health and security out of war's incalculable waste.

The plan is nothing more nor less than an earthquake aimed at farm practices and food habits. It will upset past concepts and substitute a planned and orderly farm production plus a radically changed national diet.

In general, the program calls for reduction of acreage in grain, cotton and tobacco to avoid surpluses. Production of the critical food items such as meat, dairy products and vegetables will be boosted.

It's sponsors in the Department of Agriculture admit it's big. They're sure it will work. They say it had better, or it will handicap our aid-to-the-democracies campaign almost fatally.

The food-for-defense program is more than keeping backbones and beltbuckles comfortably separated for the duration of hostilities. It looks beyond that to two great objectives.

First is uprooting ingrained food habits, many of them bad. Even in America, best-fed nation on earth, diet deficiency diseases are widespread.

Second goal is balancing our topheavy agricultural economy, stabilizing farm prices by diversity of output.

Missus 'Awkins and Mrs. Jones, millions of them, will be feeding their families better food, whether they like it or not, if the program works out.

Here's the way they expect it to work: They've drawn a production blueprint for U. S. farmers. They know, county by county, just what needs to be grown.

If the goals are reached ,there'll be plenty to eat, but there's a beneficial joker in the woodpile. There won't be plenty of the foods we normally overproduce and overeat, to the detriment of national health. They'll take up the slack with an abundance of health-rich, vitality foods.

Food-for-defense bosses expect the new production quotas to do the trick. Acreage that once was devoted to overproduced foods is earmarked for planting to vitality-food crops. They figure the output of foods for a balanced diet will zoom, the harvest of others will drop.

It's likely there'll be some squawking, when the Messrs. Jones and 'Awkins tuck their napkins under chins and cock skeptical eyes at the unfamiliar food.

The nutrition experts aren't worried, though. The squawking, they feel sure, will be brief.

The food-for-defense-and-after program doesn't contemplate letting things slip back into the old rut after the war is ended, either. They estimate 30,000,000 Americans are improperly fed. If they can get those 30,000,000 eating right under the impetus of emergency to keep them eating for health afterward.

That will mean a continuing demand for the foods that make a balanced diet after the war. If the plan works, it is expected to cure the agricultural export surplus headache as well as raise national health standards.

The farm "problem" has been largely a question of surpluses. Growers of the big cash crops produced more than this country needed, more than foreign markets could absorb. Result: low prices to the producer.

It happens that some of these surplus crops are foods we normally overeat. Curtailing acreage of these crops will have the effect of cutting the pesky surplus that depressed prices .

It's an emergency duty now. It will be good business after the war, the experts think. They reason that demand, built up by quota production of the right foods, will continue. Farmers who switch to vitality foods will continue to meet post-war demands, won't go back to surplus crop production.

So, if the program works out, everybody wins.

CHURCHILL

"the United States' time-honored interests in the Far East are well known," and added that "they are doing their utmost to find a way of preserving the peace in the Pacific."

Of the lease-lend bill Churchill declared:

"Never let us again hear the taunt that money is the ruling thought and power in the hearts and thoughts of American democracy. The lease-lend bill must be regarded without question as the most unsordid act in the whole of recorded history."

After asserting that the British had "broken the morale of the Italian navy," Churchill added:

"We now feel ourselves strong enough to provide powerful naval forces of heavy ships with the necessary ancilliary vessels for service if need be in the Indian and Pacific Oceans."

In the Pacific, Churchill said, "we stretch out the long arm of brotherhood and motherhood to the Australian and New Zealand people."

"It is practical proof," he said, "to all who have eyes to see that the forces of freedom and democracy have not by any means reached the limit of their power."

Churchill told his audience that "viewing the vast, somber scene as dispassionately as possible, it would seem a very hazardous adventure for the Japanese people to plunge quite needlessly into a world struggle in which they will find themselves—in which they may well find themselves-opposed in the Pacific by states whose population comprises nearly three-quarters of the human race.

"If steel is the foundation of modern war, it would be rather dangerous for a power like Japan, whose steel production is only about seven million tons a year, to provoke quite gratuitously a struggle with the United States, whose steel production is now about ninety million tons a year, and I take no account of the powerful contribution which the British Empire can make in various ways.

Hopes for Peace.

"I hope devoutly that the peace of the Pacific will be preserved in accordance with the known wishes of the wisest statesmen of Japan.

"But every preparation to defend British interests in the Far East and defend the common cause now at stake has been and is being made."

Returning to the war in Europe, the prime minister said:

"We are told from many quarters that we must soon expect what is called a peace offensive from Berlin. All the usual signs and symptoms already are manifest—as the foreign secretary will confirm—in the neutral countries and all signs point to that direction.

"They all say that the guilty men who have let hell loose upon the world are hoping to escape with their fleeting triumph and ill-gotten plunder from the closing net of doom.

"We owe it to ourselves, we owe it to our Russian allies and to the government and people of the United States to make it absolutely clear that whether we are supported or are alone, however long and hard the toll may be, the British nation and his majesty's government at the head of the nation and in intimate concert with the governments of the great dominions will never enter into any negotiations with Hitler or any party in Germany which represents the Nazi Regime."

BRITISH

the flames. The enemy kept up constant patrols of night fighters. The crew of one bomber alone saw more than six fighters, but there were few interceptions and no check in the attack."

German planes apparently flying singly were reported over Eastern England in the morning and over Northeastern England in the afteroon.

Goes Over to Enemy.

NEW DELHI, India, Nov. 10—(AP)—Subhas Chandra Bose, famous Indian political leader and head of the left wing of Mohandas Gandhi's All-India congress party, "has gone over to the enemy" and is now believed to be in Rome or Berlin, the government announced today.

A statement made at a session of the Council of State said that Bose signed a pact with the axis designed to lead to an invasion of India.

(Only last week the exiled Grand Mufti of Perusalem, leader of a large faction of Arabs in the Near East, escaped to Rome, whence he went to Berlin.)

Bose, twice president of the Congress party, the predominantly Hindu organization which is one of India's two leading political groups, disappeared last January from a sick room in Calcutta. A warrant was issued for his arrest the following day when he failed to appear in court on a seven-month old cvharge under the fense of India act.

Bose was elected mayor of Calcutta in 1930 while he was a political prisoner. As leader of the extreme left bloc of the Congress party, he frequently clashed with the British government and at times threatened Gandhi's leadership of the party.

IN MEMORY

Of Mrs. J. A. Gentsch, dear wife and mother and grandmother.

We watched her suffer day by day,
It caused us bitter grief
To see her surely pine away,
And could not give relief.
Her weariy hours and days of pain, her troubled nights
Are passed and in our aching hearts we know
She has found sweet peace at last.
Your gentle face and patient smile with sadness we recall,
The voice is mute and stilled the heart that loved us well and true.
Ah, bitter was the trial to part from one so good and true,
You are not forgotten, loved one, nor will you ever be.
As long as life and memories last, we will remember thee,
We miss you now, our hearts are sore,
As time goes by, we miss you more.
Your loving smile, your gentle face,
No one can fill your vacant place.
Sadly missed by husband, children and grandchildren.

Dear Mr. Jones:

Just a few lines to let you know how much I enjoyed being a student of Bob Boyles Aircraft School.

As you know I went through school about three months ago, and have been working for North American ever since.

I started out at sixty cents an hour and am now getting seventy five. Also get quite a lot of overtime, which pays time and a half, as you know. My checks have been running around $45.00 every week now for quite some time.

I am only nineteen years of age and working in a growing trade. This was made possible only by Bob Boyles Aircraft School.

Very Truly Yours,

OTHEL DOWD.

TRAFFIC JUNCTION IN LENINGRAD AREA REPORTED CAPTURED

GERMAN HIGH COMMAND ALSO REPORT RUSSIANS BEING DRIVEN BACK IN SOUTH

BERLIN, Nov. 10.—(AP)—Desperate Russian counter attacks have brought the German advance on the Crimean naval base of Sevastopol "to a temporary standstill," DNB declared tonight.

The news agency said the Russians started their counter thrust last Saturday after laying down a heavy artillery barrage.

The Germns struck back, DNB said, and are maintaining the steady pressure on Sevastopol in fighting in which Russians "fell by the hundreds."

BERLIN, Nov. 10.—(AP)—The high command said today that German forces had taken the important traffic junction of Tikhvin, southeast of Leningrad, and, on the far southern front, were pressing the Russians back between Sevastopol and Kerch in the Crimea.

Capture of Kerch on the night of Nov. 8 was claimed in a special communique. It said that about 20,000 Russian prisoners had been taken on the northern front since Oct. 16, raising the total so far to 3,632,000.

Progress in the Crimean campaign east of Sevastopol, the important Red navy base, and west of Kerch, on a neck of the isthmus across a narrow strait from the Causasus, was reported in the regular war bulletin from Adolf Hitler's headquarters.

It said Sevastopol was bombed by German planes day and night.

Large fires were started in oil tanks and warehouses, and a Soviet cruiser and merchant ship were heavily bombed in the Sevastopol harbor, the communique said.

The air force was credited also with destroying a large number of Russian transport trains between the Donets and Volga Rivers and in the Moscow area.

FORT WORTH SCHOOL SUPERINTENDENT TO DELIVER ADDRESS

W. M. Green, superintendent of the Fort Worth city schools, will deliver the principal address before the Rural School Administrators Section of the Texas State Teacher's Association at Houston, according to Superintendent W. V. Harrison of Frost, who is president of the Rural Administrators Section.

The subject of Superintendent Green's address will be "The Modern Rural Village Community School in Texas." Miss Myrtle Tanner of the State Department of Education, Austin, Texas, will lead a round table discussion of Superintendent Green's address and general theme of attendance areas and administrative units for Texas rural schools.

Reports from over the state indicate an unusually large attendance at the section meeting, according to Superintendent Harrison. The problem of rural attendance areas and administrative units in Texas is arousing widespread interest over the state at this time.

Frost Appears As Opponent of Kerens For District Flag

Kerens Bobcats have cinched the A division championship of the District 21-B circles while the Frost Polar Bears can annex the B division with a win over Trinidad, Nov. 20.

Frost meets Dawson in a non-district tilt at Frost Tuesday afternoon, Armistice Day, in connection with the annual Homecoming celebration there.

When Milford took the Milford Eagles into camp Friday afternoon, 14-6, it moved one of the B contenders from the path of the Polar Bears. Only Trinidad has a chance at a tie with Frost and it will be necessary for Trinidad to defeat Frost to get the tie.

The A and B division champions clash for the district championship and the right to compete in bi-district play. Kerens is a decided favorite at the present time. Italy was the 1940 champion, while Kerens won in 1938 and 1939.

TEXAS YOUTH SYNOD FOR PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH USA PLANNED

WILL MEET ON TRINITY UNIVERSITY CAMPUS ON NOVEMBER 28 FOR ORGANIZATION

A planning conference for the statewide organization of the Presbyterian young people into a Youth Synod was held in Dallas at the City Temple, 1:15 o'clock, Tuesday, November 4.

For the first time in the history of Texas, the young people of the Presbyterian Church, U. S. A. are to meet on the Trinity University campus, Waxahachie, Texas, November 28 and 29, to organize a Youth Synod, which will be patterned after the Synod of Texas. They will convene at 11 a.m. Friday for an inspirational address, and the afternoon will be given over to the business of adopting the constituton and the setting up of cmmittees. A fellowship dinner will be held at six o'clock, with Dr. T. J. Wilbanks of Texarkana, moderator of the Synod of Texas, as toastmaster; and at 7:30 a speaking and discussion period will follow. The Youth Synod will reconvene at 9 a. m. the next morning to continue unfinished business, and will adjourn following an inspirational address and communon service at 11 o'clock.

The planning conference in Dallas was called by the Rev. Frank Travis of Childress, who is chairman of Christian Education for the Synod of Texas. Ministers who were present were J. Hoytt Boles, Fort Worth; James Spivey, Dennison; Charles L. Dickey, Paris; Donald Harris, Jacksonville; anad Gordon MacInnis, Corsicana. Others who attended were Dr. Paul J. Schwab, Waxahachie; Mrs. Sam Dennis and Gordon Collier, Fort Worth; Mrs. James Spivey and Gordon Ray Hodges, Dennison; Max Paine Jacksonville, Helen Poe, Dallas; Kathryn Bartlett and Jimmy Logan, Paris; R. C. Linder, Forney; and Charles Harris, Terrel.

The idea for the youth synod originated at a meeting held in Corsicana about one year ago at the Third Avenue Presbyterian church.

Aged Scotwoman Gives Her Recipe Taking Bombing

HOSCHTON, Ga., Nov. 10.—(AP)—An aged Scotswoman writing her thanks for Bundles of Britain, says Mrs. J. P. Mahaffey, gave this recipe for taking a bombing:

"When the air-raid warning sounds, I take the Bible from the shelf and read the Twenty-Third Psalm. Then I put up a wee bit prayer. Then I take a wee drab 'o whisky to steady my nerves. Then I get in bed and pull up the covers. And then I tell Hitler to hell."

ROUTINE MATTERS WERE CONSIDERED BY COMMISSIONERS

Routine matters were considered at the regular meeting of the commissioners court Monday morning.

The court was slated to meet Monday afternoon.

Two minor tax adjustments were made.

Claims were allowed except as noted on the claim docket.

A delegation appeared in the interest of improving a school bus route from Navarro west. Oiling or other improvement was requested.

Commissioner Jim Taylor said that he would inspect the route with an engineer as soon as possible looking toward determining what could be done.

The county auditor was authorized to advertise for bids for one or more used maintainers and one or more new or used tractors and graders, bids to be opened Dec. 1,1941.

REUNION OF SALESMEN '09 OVERLAND AGENCY AT HUGH DRANE HOME

A reunion of salesmen of the Overland agency in Dallas in 1909 was being held at Arcady, home of Hugh A. Drane, Monday and Tuesday, with several of the former associates traveling a considerable distance to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Compton of San Antonio, close friends of the Dranes, are here and are aiding in entertaining the guests.

Among those already arrived at noon in addition to Mr. Drane of the 1909 associates were Fred Wilson, Indian trader, Phoenix, Ariz.; Lieut. Col. Ray Leeman, San Antonio; P. B. Funk, Jackson, Mich., manufacturer; and Jack Reeves, Dallas, still in the automobile business.

Col. E. O. Thompson, Texas railroad commissioner from Amarillo, now on active army duty, was expected during the afternoon. Several others were unable to attend for various reasons.

EDITOR'S CONTEMPT CASE IS REVERSED BY SUPREME COURT

JACKSONN, Miss., Nov. 10.—(AP)—The Mississippi Supreme Court today reversed a contempt of court conviction of Frederick Sullens, editor of the Jackson daily news, holding that he was discharging his duty as an editor in commenting on proceedings of a circuit court term.

Circuit Judge J. F. Barbour had found Sullens guilty of contempt and had imposed a fine of $100 and a thirty-day jail sentence, the latter suspended "during good behavior."

The contempt citation came at the end of a court term at which Judge Barbour had instructed a grand jury to investigate reports of widespread gambling and liquor selling in Hinds County. Later the judge rebuked petit jurors who voted against a conviction in a liquor case.

Referring to the judge's charge, Sullens said editorially that "an utterly false and exaggerated impression is created in the public mind that a saturnalia of crime flourished in the most important county in the state."

Justice Julian Alexander reviewed the entire case at length and held that no contempt was found in the record. In a specially concurring opinion, Chief Justice Sydney Smith declared that "the appelant (Sullens) was attempting to discharge a duty that he owed the public as the editor of a newspaper."

New Population Center of U. S. Marked By Post

CARLISLE, Ind., Nov. 10.—(AP)—The new center of population of the United States is a fence post alonside a blacktop road two miles southeast of this Southwestern Indiana village.

It's a corner post, with a winter wheat field on one side and a bluegrass pasture, complete with cows, horses, and two mules, on the other. cross the road is a corn field.

The new population center, decided by the census bureau at Washington, is in a region of rich, black farms at the edge of Indiana coal fields. Most of the residents of Carlisle and the surrounding rural areas are natives. Carlisle was founded in 1813.
